

Scalable Strategic Solutions

Flexible rental options for equipment services that are designed to fit your needs.

What is keySYNC?

We know that everyone's emission testing needs are different and that a one-size-fits-all approach is not the best option. That's why we developed keySYNC; to offer short-term use of our iPEMS equipment along with add-on options for consumables, training, testing and data processing services.

With versatile options to choose from, 3DATX will provide a customizable turnkey iPEMS solution that is tailored to fit your specific emissions testing needs!

Who can benefit from keySYNC?

Customers who –

- have budget constraints
- are limited to a “services only” budget
- have a short-term (3 months or less) testing & evaluation requirement
- require a comparison between 1065 PEMS, lab equipment, and mini/iPEMS;
- are exploring how the inclusion of iPEMS can reduce wear/tear/cost on full size 1065 PEMS or be used for pre-certification qualifications.
